

PART OF NORTH AMERICA,

Showing the Geographical Features of the Country and other particulars
Illustrative of the Matters which were in Controversy between
THE DOMINION OF CANADA, THE PROVINCE OF MANITOBA, AND THE PROVINCE OF ONTARIO.

Adapted from the large map prepared for the Government of Ontario by Stanbury's Geographical Establishment, London, 1884, for use upon and referred to in the Argument before the Privy Council.

NOTE.
The Territory claimed for Ontario before the Award of the Arbitrators, 2nd August, 1878, extended to the Rocky Mountains on the West and to the Arctic slope on the North and North-west. The part striped with yellow and red, crosswise, denotes that part of the Territory awarded by the Arbitrators to Ontario which the Dominion Act, 44 Vic., cap. 14, purported to transfer to Manitoba. The part with yellow stripes, denotes territory which the same Act purported to transfer to Manitoba conditionally. The part striped with red, was the remainder of the awarded territory, and was claimed by the Dominion.

TABLE OF AREAS.

ACCORDING TO DOMINION CENSUS OF 1881.

Area of British Columbia	941,806 Sq. Miles	Estimated area of awarded territory claimed from Ontario	95,267 Sq. Miles
Area of Ontario, as limited by contention of Manitoba	101,738	Estimated area of that part of awarded territory which is west of the meridian of the confluence of the Ohio and Mississippi Rivers, and was claimed by Manitoba from Ontario	30,000
Area of Quebec, North of the boundaries which were claimed by that Province	123,200	Estimated area of that part of the last-mentioned territory which lies South and East of the Height of Land	7,000
Area of New Brunswick	27,174	Estimated area of disputed territory claimed for Ontario before Award	985,000
Area of Nova Scotia	20,807
Area of Prince Edward Island	2,133
Area of the Dominion	2,665,223
Total Area of Dominion	2,670,922

Scale of English Statute Miles.
75° Longitude West of Greenwich.